- Fast Company hosted a Tech Session along with a meeting site for the Western PA Chapter of Audi Club of North America. Dan Fowler, owner of Fast Company, along with Andy Schor took us through a tour of the facility. They were happy to answer questions from the attendees concerning issues of maintenance, repair and modifications to make the various cars they work on ready for the track. There was plenty of beer and pizza to go around. A Hearty THANK YOU to Dan for allowing us the opportunity to view the cars, ask questions and supplying the pizza and to Andy for the beer and the coordinating efforts.
